

Your Flexible Partner for Business Systems

MAKE IT HAPPEN

The effects on a company following the implementation of an ERP system - and other significant structural shifts - can be deep and complex.

Many change management consultancies offer very effective business process reengineering and many training companies offer very effective training for the end users. So why does the change not always work?

You can have the right people, in the right place geographically, yet if they are not in the right place in their minds, it will not work. This could be a result of a number of reasons including 'out of their safety/comfort zone', entering the 'unknown', a lack of soft skills in dealing with change or a 'block' following past experiences.

G7 can help your team recognize, accept and handle the cycle we all go through emotionally, when affected by change. To move forward with focus and passion, G7 can help your people understand that embracing change can work for them. They just need to be equipped with coping mechanisms to allow them to do so.

At G7, our approach is guided by the four cornerstones of change: outcome, sensory acuity, flexibility and action.
